My Traits and Abilities

Capture your traits, qualities, abilities, talents, gifts, passions... what are your key characteristics?

How do you present yourself to the outside world in general? What are people's first impressions of you? Write down a sentence or phrase that others would use to describe you. Then list the qualities and abilities that others are most likely to see in you when they meet you for the first time.

QUALITIES

Now think about friends who know you well. Write down a sentence or phrase they would use to describe you. Then list the qualities and abilities you have that they most admire.

QUALITIES

What do you value most about yourself – which qualities and abilities make you feel good – even if others don't know about them.

What I Know About Me

Summarize what you have learned about yourself through life, and what this exercise has helped you discover about your passions, traits, strengths and abilities. Also think about a metaphor – a favorite book or movie, a mythical character – that reflects what you believe to be true about your life.

Visceral Verbs

This exercise is used to help you select verbs that connect with your sense of purpose. Choose three action verbs that most appeal to you – the verbs that make your skin tingle . We have included a list below for suggestions, but don't feel limited by the verbs in this list. You can use any verbs that you like. The tricky part is listening to your heart in this exercise. Choose verbs that call to you and resonate with how you make a difference in this world.

Purpose = Why I Do What I Do

Go back through the previous pages and look at everything you've recorded. Whenever you see something that evokes good feelings or stirs your emotions, ask yourself: Why is this important to me? How has this influenced who I am? Is this significant in what I do? Now complete these statements below. Keep your sentences as simple and clear as possible – and focus on making them feel right, not sound right.

I feel it's important to...
I want my life to be more...
My core values are most real to me when I am...
I feel my best when...
My biggest desire is to live my life...
My purpose in life is to...

My purpose is to...

Fill the unseen gaps in the game being played, so that the team is set up to succeed

Provide context so that others can see and know how to make things better

Help others find the best life has to offer, so that they can achieve great things

Find the best way for any person to succeed in any situation

Help others find their power so that they can make better choices

Empower others to overcome limits so that they are free to keep pursuing new challenges

Tap into life's energy to show others how they can experience a more amazing existence

Inspire others to do the things that inspire them

Create safe spaces and pleasing environments where others can flourish

Give everyone a chance to reveal their beauty, so the world can see the best in them

Connect people and opportunity so that potential can be realized

Invest energy in people and opportunities so you can prove it's possible to do the impossible

Make visions real, so that others can have experiences which go beyond the things they imagined possible

Help people reveal their real worth by finding exceptional ways to bring their ideas to life and have an impact

Show others that change is not impossible, but necessary for progress
